Paul's Ribs

Artist Bio

Paul's Ribs is an indie fusion band with elements of jazz and rock with a background in folk music. Made up of three friends - Ana Poacelli, Manny Mondrono, and Dylan Lore, this band made an immediate effect on the local scene booking shows around town. They blend jazz, rock, and folk influences into a unique sound that feels like being lost in a dream thinking of all your desires, wants, and wishes. A glimpse into what could've been. They know how to captivate a room and bring in a crowd.
